November of 2024 Edition (Rev 009)

<https://www.Facebook.com/groups/378908343169670/user/100005634344254>

Greetings,

Welcome to my presentation

I have spent numerous hours putting this together for my Mom, Dolores (Sippel) Braun and I hope you find it as respectful, interesting and enjoyable and fascinating as I do.

I would also like to thank the others that have tried to compile this madness into one place.

Cindy Hoffmann for all her TIME and HARD WORK to put this event together every year

Teri Sippel – Schmidt for the old photos and Laura Sippel for the Facebook work and account

Eileen Calvey for always trying to have an updated contact list for everyone throughout the years

Laura (Sippel) Froeschl for the Sippel Facebook page.

Donna (Sippel) Meents for the Register Report of 597 plus page document with all the info going back to August 26, 1776. A Monday!

I feel that no one can imagine the time it takes for these individual to perform these task, let alone the effort they have tried to accomplish, until you try to do it yourself. They needs to be told that her efforts are appreciated by all and I apologies to you, Cindy, for all of us who lack giving it our undivided attention and giving you any assistance, or even the common curtesy of acknowledging by a simple e-mail but thank you from all of us to you from the bottom of our hearts. We do love it...we just feel guilty approaching conversations with people we are related to and can't even remember their names, let alone where they are in life, and all that, let alone how we feel we are disrespecting our elders... even if we go..

Now, for the closeted bashful, or whatever you want to call yourselves who don't respond..., I finally created a "as complete as I could cheat sheet" for all of us who forget people's names and the minor details, let alone the fine details, that we should know about our basic Aunts, Uncles and First Cousins, Second Cousins, et cetera.

This presentation includes photos and links to their Facebook accounts and an e-mail address for the less discrete.

I have also added some old pictures that Teri Sippel Schmidt put together for me several years ago and the results of some home DNA tests I took.

Please feel free to forward other photos you have so I can add or modify this record; however, I should not get credit for putting this whole thing together. All these people got this thing started and have been trying to get this thing out in the first place.

My hat, once again, goes off to you Cindy Hoffmann, Teri Sippel Schmidt, Laura Sippel and of course Eileen Sippel Calvey.

Enjoy the conversations this brings for the next generations and 1,000 years..

Christopher Braun

SIPPEL Family

Ernest John Sippel and Pelagia Mary Pauly Sippel Family Reunion Power Point Presentation

Sippel: What does the surname Sippel mean?

The surname Sippel is of German origin. It is derived from the German word "sippa", which translates to "blood relative" or "kin" in English. The Sippel surname would have originally been used to signify someone who was related by blood, reflecting the intensely family-oriented society of medieval Germany. Thus, the surname has familial or fraternal connotations. Sippel is categorized as a patronymic surname, a type of surname which is derived from the personal name of an ancestor or father of the initial bearer. Moreover, it may also refer to someone who came from a region in Germany where this name was popular. Therefore, Sippel is a common last name throughout Germany and in areas with significant German immigrant populations. As with many other surnames, geographical distribution and usage have changed over time and the Sippel surname is now found in many parts of the world.

Sippel: Where does the name Sippel come from?

The last name Sippel is of German origin and is still very common today in Germany. While the population of Germany is around 82 million, there are approximately 140,000 people with the last name Sippel, giving it a concentration of 0.17% of the general population.

The surname is also found throughout Europe, particularly in countries with strong ties to German culture, such as Austria and Switzerland. It is also present in other countries around the world where German immigration has occurred, such as the United States, Canada, and Australia.

In the United States, the Sippel surname is most common in the midwest and eastern states, particularly Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, and Illinois. This could be due to large German migrations through ships that left from port cities on the east coast in the late 1800s and early 1900s. These areas are also where a significant number of German people settled, giving rise to numerous German-influenced communities and enclaves.

The last name Sippel is also found around the world as a result of German migration and foreign relations. For example, it is most common in Mexico due to German migration in the 19th century as well as recent investment in Mexico by companies based in Germany. The same goes for South America, where German companies have invested heavily, and the Sippel surname is found in countries such as Argentina and Chile.

Variations of the surname Sippel

The surname Sippel is a German and Dutch toponymic surname that has a range of variants and spellings.

The most common spelling for this surname is Sippel, and it is found among German and Dutch families. It originates from the Middle High German word "sippe" which means a family or clan, and is found in Germanic speaking countries. Migration Story A Date: -696 BC - 1471 AD Radius: 158miles Latitude: 49.945 Longitude: -6.341 Ancient ancestry in around England Your ancestors came from around England prior to 696 AD, so let's take a look at what was going on in England up to this point: The Roman Invasion Between 43 AD and 410 AD, England was ruled by local leaders in a period known as Roman Britain. In the 1st century AD, England was invaded by the Romans who, having landed in Kent and defeated local tribal leaders, began to expand northwards. Although England became a Roman province, Roman expansion was frequently met with resistance and revolts from native rulers, such as the warrior-queen Boudicca. In the middle of the 4th century AD, Roman rule began to breakdown. People migrated from Italy and Ireland and the Netherlands to England due to the Romans conquest of England and subsequent settlement, the Gaelic invasions from Ireland in 300 AD and the arrival of Dutch Frisii tribes who settled in Kent. The Arrival of the Anglo-Saxons Between 411 AD and 1065 AD, England was ruled by local leaders in a period known as Anglo-Saxon Britain. Post-Roman England, which, by this time was divided into several powerful kingdoms, underwent a cultural transition with the arrival of Germanic speaking Anglo-Saxon settlers over several centuries. These included Saxon warriors, invited to protect Britons from invading Scottish tribes, and peaceful migrants as well as the infamous Viking raiders. A combination of invasion, migration and cultural assimilation resulted in a Christian, Anglo-Saxon England, which was united at the end of the millennium. People migrated from Norway, Denmark, and Germany and France to England as a result of the Viking raids and settlements along the English coast and the large influx of Anglo-Saxons who were initially employed in the English military. At the same time, populations moved from England to places like France, Spain, Scotland, and Denmark and Norway fleeing the country after the mass immigration of Anglo-Saxons. Movement from around England to Germany At some point before 696 AD your ancestors moved to Germany. These are the events your ancestors would have lived through in Germany. Early Germanic Tribes Between 100 BC and 394 AD, Germany was ruled by local leaders in a period known as the Archaic period and Late Antiquity. Germany was home to multiple Germanic tribes who frequently emerged victorious against Roman military campaigns, preventing Roman advance into Germany. At the end of the 4th century AD the Huns invaded Germany and many of the native Germanic tribes began to migrate westwards to escape the rule of the Hunnish Empire. People migrated from Scandinavia and Poland and Eastern Europe to Germany as part of the mass migration of tribes into Germany. Many Danes moved south seeking new lands after crop failures in Denmark. At the same time, populations moved from Germany to places like neighboring European countries as Germanic tribes continued to migrate across the continent. The Great Tribal Migration Between 395 AD and 799 AD, Germany was ruled by local leaders in a period known as the Migration period. During this period there was mass migration of many Germanic tribes throughout Europe; Slavic tribes entered Germany from the east, while the Visigoths sacked Rome and then established a kingdom covering Iberia. The Ostrogoths settled in Italy and the Franks in France and West Germany. Over the proceeding centuries, the Franks came to dominate all of the Germanic tribes and built a vast empire under the Merovingian kings. People migrated from Romania, Ukraine, Moldova, and Belarus and Russia to Germany as a Slavic tribal migration swept across Eastern and Central Europe. Many Slavs settled in the eastern regions of Germany. At the same time, populations moved from Germany to places like Spain, Portugal, Italy, and France and other Western European countries The movement of tribes across Western Europe such as the Suebi who settled in Spain and Portugal, the Visigoths in Iberia, the Ostrogoths in Italy and the Franks in France. Migration Story B Date: 225 AD - 1268 AD Radius: 37.6661miles Latitude: 57.545 Longitude: 41.215 Ancient ancestry in Russia Your ancestors came from Russia prior to 659 AD, so let's take a look at what was going on in Russia up to this point: The Gothic Kingdom of Oium Between 100 AD and 300 AD, Russia was ruled by local leaders in a period known as the Gothic Age. In 100 AD Gothic tribes migrated from Scandinavia and allegedly established the Gothic Kingdom Oium in southern Russia. The area was likely also home to Slavs and other groups, such as the Turkic Khazars, who had gradually arrived in the country since the end of the Ice Age. Oium collapsed when it was overrun by Huns. People migrated from Belarus, Ukraine, Moldova, and Eastern Europe and Central Asia to Russia as part of the migration of different tribal groups around Europe searching for new land and opportunities. At the same time, populations moved from Russia to places like Scandinavia, Georgia, Armenia, Azerbaijan, and Ukraine and the Baltic states during the movement of early tribes from Russia through to the Baltic region and Scandinavia. The Bulgarians from Siberia moved down into the Eurasian Steppe and the plains between the Caspian and Black Seas. The Khazar Kingdoms Between 301 AD and 881 AD, Russia was ruled by local leaders in a period known as the Middle Ages. At this time Russia was home to many nomadic warrior Turkic tribes and local Finno-Ugric tribes. In the south was the Bosporan Kingdom, a Roman client state that was subsequently replaced by the kingdom of Khazaria. The Khazars were a Turkic people who dominated the Crimea and Caucasus having a highly profitable control over trade to the east. Eastern Slavs were beginning to migrate to and settle in Russia, and by the 7th century constituted a majority of the population. People migrated from Belarus, Ukraine, Moldova, and Eastern Europe and Central Asia to Russia as a consequence of the constant westward migration of nomadic tribes across Eastern Europe, such as the Slavs, Khazars and Avars, many of whom settled in Russia. DESIRED 2024 Ernie and Polly Sippel Reunion in the Park

This chapter of this book is basically a list of the things I need to make the book “more complete” with individual family portraits and one big family portrait in the park.

One unwritten annual goal is to “take” a huge family photo of everyone together. Everyone views those old photos and wishes we had one. Well, I would like to do this at the Sippel Family Reunion in Fond du Lac every year if possible too; however, we all know this is not always an option and below is an example of the photo’s I would like to receive from all of you with regards to each individual family, and, what we can do is follow my directions after this, create individual family pictures, or standard family portraits we all want anyways, and electronically stich them together and make it look like were all in a huge family photo. It’s a start.

This slide is my attempt at doing just that, and yes, it took a while, and yes, it didn’t work out well. The lay-out of each individual family photos do NOT follow a standard format.

Please photograph yourselves, and your family, in the “rough draft” photo lay-out below, and try to image what you and your family could do, and how they could pose, if I were to replace you and your family with a “better photo” for use in your individual slide and the “rough draft photo”. I am including some dimensions I would like every photo to be laid out in. The general width of the family setting, the distance the high-resolution photo from someone’s photo should be taken from both off the ground and from the front row of the family and even the placement of the people in the FAMILY PHOTOGRAPH. Now, I understand, that 30 years from now, there are going to be more people, so please allow a little on the edges for editing.

The Camera should be back about 10 feet from the front row persons and the group should be no more than 15 feet wide and 5 feet off the ground. Three rows is desired, one for each generation. Everyone’s face and front torso should be observable and everyone smiling and looking at the lens and not the FLASH BULB. Also, long sleeve shirt, all families wearing the same basic solid colors and no plaids. Suite and ties are welcome, especially for the Grandparents.

Alan 12/17/1963 – 7/3/2023
Linda 12/3/1964

Alan John Sippel, 60, passed away on 7-2-2024. Alan was raised in Fond du Lac, WI. After graduating from U.W. Oshkosh, he joined the U.S. Air Force in 1987. Upon completing service, he resided in southeastern Virginia.

He leaves behind his wife of 29 years, Linda, along with his father Ernest Sippel, sister Cindy (John) Hoffmann and their son Kurtis, sister Shari (Tom) Quigley and their sons Jack and Ryan, and many extended relatives.

He loved his home state of Wisconsin and enjoyed visiting family there as much as possible, as his health permitted. He also enjoyed sharing information about his state with his friends and coworkers. He had a very kind and gentle spirit. His Catholic faith was a very important part of his life.

Alan will be interred in his home town with funeral services to be announced at a later date. He will be deeply missed by all who knew him.

Other Sippel's in Fond du Lac you may know...

Greetings again,
4/21/2024

John Ernie Sippel had 11 (eleven) other brothers and sisters.

They all have a family tree, and potential book like this, out there.

I compiled a list of all the easily found “Sippel’s” in the Wisconsin area.

Please feel free to share this with them and see if they can identify any of the people in the beginning of this presentation or can add some info to the presentation.

Enjoy.
