

George Braun and Margaret Nee Beau Braun Family Reunion Power Point Presentation

January of 2025 Edition (Rev 009)

Greetings,

Welcome to my presentation.

I have spent numerous hours putting this together for my Dad, John Peter Braun, and I hope you find it as respectful, interesting and enjoyable and fascinating as I do.

I would also like to thank the others that have tried to compile this madness into one place and Suzette Fulton for her family photos.

I feel that no one can imagine the time it takes for an individual to perform these task, let alone the efforts to accomplish this until you try to do it yourself. They needs to be told that her efforts are appreciated by all.

I hope this lowers the guilty feelings we have when we approach conversations with people we are related to and can't even remember their names, let alone where they are in life, and all that, without feeling we are disrespecting our elders.

Now, for the closeted bashful, or whatever you want to call yourselves who don't respond..., I finally created a "as complete as I could cheat sheet" for all of us who forget people's names and the minor details, let alone the fine details, that we should know about our basic Aunts, Uncles and First Cousins, Second Cousins, et cetera.

This presentation includes photos and links to their Facebook accounts and an e-mail address for the less discrete.

I have also added some old pictures that were put together for us several years ago and the results of some home DNA tests I took.

Please feel free to forward other photos you have so I can add or modify this record; however, I should not get credit for putting this whole thing together. All these people got this thing started and have been trying to get this thing out in the first place.

Enjoy the conversations this brings for the next generations and 1,000 years..

Braun is a common surname, originating from the German word for the color brown. The name is the 22nd most common family name in Germany. Many German emigrants to the United States also changed their name to Brown (see Brown (surname)). In German, Braun is pronounced [br̩aʊn], except for the "r" equal to the English word "brown". In English, it is often pronounced as "brawn", as in 'Carol Moseley Braun'. Pronunciation is an individual preference and is hard to guess unless one is in a position to hear the person's name spoken.

Origin of the Name Braun (Complete History)

The name Braun has a rich and fascinating history that stretches back centuries. In this article, we will explore the meaning, etymology, geographical distribution, evolution, famous people, and pop culture references associated with the name Braun. Join us on a journey through time to uncover the origins of this unique surname.

Understanding the Meaning of Braun

The name Braun is derived from the German word "braun," which translates to "brown" in English. As a surname, Braun is often associated with individuals who have brown hair, eyes, or complexion. However, it is important to note that surnames can have multiple origins and be influenced by various factors.

Over time, surnames have evolved and acquired additional meanings beyond their literal translations. The name Braun, in particular, has taken on symbolic significance and represents attributes such as strength, stability, and reliability.

When we delve into the etymology of the name Braun, we discover fascinating connections to its Germanic roots. The word "brun" or "brūn" in Old High German meant "brown." This Germanic root word originated from the Proto-Indo-European word "b^her-," which also meant "brown" or "shine." The brown color has been associated with earth and nature, symbolizing grounding, warmth, and endurance.

As European societies grew and expanded, surnames became identifiers that helped distinguish individuals. The adoption of surnames was influenced by factors such as occupation, location, physical attributes, or even nicknames. In the case of Braun, it became a way to identify individuals with brown features, emphasizing their unique characteristics.

Etymology of Braun

Exploring the etymology of a name allows us to uncover its rich history and cultural significance. In the case of Braun, its roots can be traced back to Old High German, where "brun" or "brūn" meant "brown." This linguistic connection highlights the importance of color in defining identities and the role it played in shaping surnames.

Furthermore, the association of the color brown with earth and nature adds depth to the meaning of the name Braun. It symbolizes a connection to the natural world, embodying qualities such as stability, reliability, and endurance. These attributes may have influenced how individuals with the surname Braun were perceived within their communities.

As societies evolved and cultures intermingled, surnames underwent changes and adaptations. The name Braun, with its strong ties to the color brown, continued to carry its symbolic weight across generations and geographical boundaries.

This was posted at a Braun Family Reunion in Mt. Calvary, Wisconsin – 7/29/2024

George and Margaret had a son, Joseph Anthony Braun.

Joseph Anthony Braun was born January 17, 1886. Joe was born in a gray shingled two-story house, immediately next door to the white frame house he would later call home for 55 years.

Joe was living with his mother and siblings on what is now Cedar Lane, outside Mt. Calvary, when he met Gertrude Bleuel. Gertie was born on June 3, 1888 and her family lived at the crest of what is now Evergreen Road, also outside of Mt. Calvary.

Joe and Gertie were married on July 9, 1914. Joe was 28-years-old and Gertie was 26. They honeymooned at Niagara Falls and visited with relatives in Buffalo, New York.

Their first child, Elmer, was born September 10, 1915. followed by Dolores on January 11, 1917.

Joe and Gertie moved their family into the white frame house in Calvary Station sometime in 1918. This house would shelter Joe's daughters (Evie and Estelle) their entire lives ...Evie for 95 years!!!

Evelyn was added to the family March 12, 1923. Baby Orville arrived on November 25, 1924 and passed March 31, 1925.

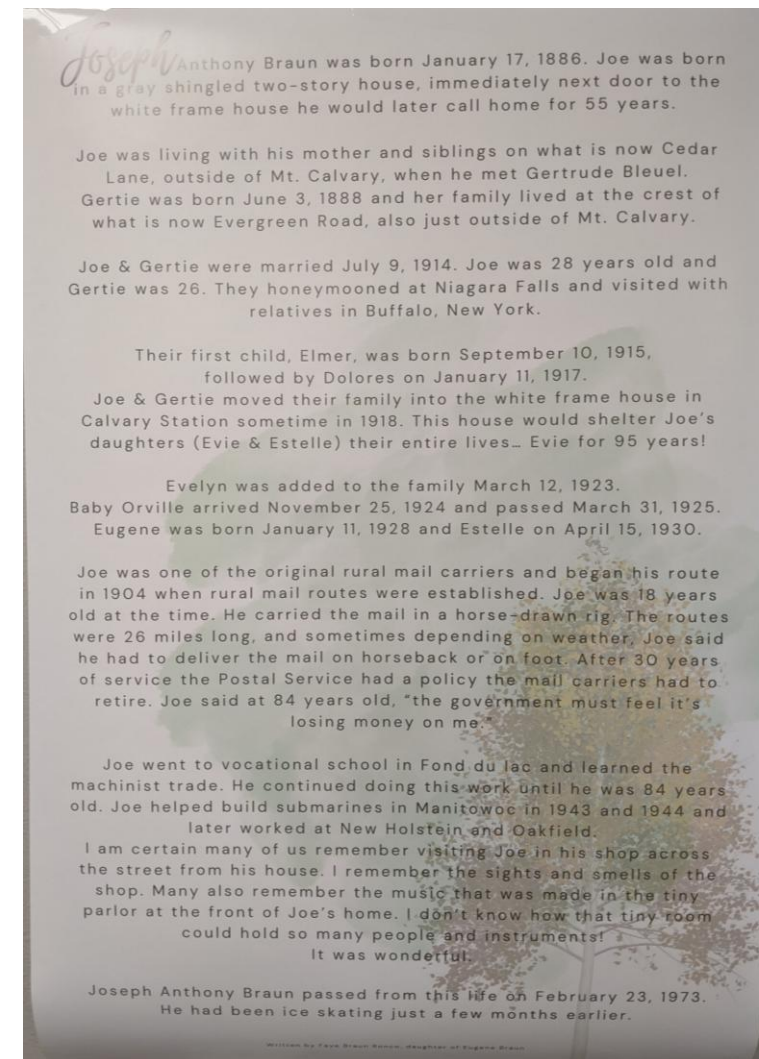

Eugene was born January 11, 1928 and Estelle on April 15, 1930.

Joe was one of the original rural mail carriers and began his route in 1904 when rural mail routes were established. Joe was 18-years-old at the time. He carried the mail in a horse-drawn rig. The routes were 26 miles long and sometimes, depending on the weather, Joe said he had to deliver the mail on horseback or on foot. After 30 years of service, the Postal Service had a policy the mail carriers had to retire. Joe said at 84 years old, "the Government must feel it is losing money on me."

Joe went to vocational school in Fond du Lac and learned the machinist trade. He continued doing the work until he was 84-years-old. Joe helped build submarines in Manitowoc in 1943 and in 1944 and later worked in New Holstein and Oakfield.

I am certain many of us remember visiting Joe in his shop across the street from his house. I remember the sights and smells of the shop. Many also remember the music that was made in the tiny parlor at the front of Joe's home. I don't know how that tiny room could hold so many people and instruments! It was wonderful.

Joseph Anthony Braun passed from this life on February 23, 1973. Had been ice skating just a few months earlier.

Migration Story A Date: -696 BC - 1471 AD Radius: 158miles Latitude: 49.945 Longitude: -6.341 Ancient ancestry in around England Your ancestors came from around England prior to 696 AD, so let's take a look at what was going on in England up to this point: The Roman Invasion Between 43 AD and 410 AD, England was ruled by local leaders in a period known as Roman Britain. In the 1st century AD, England was invaded by the Romans who, having landed in Kent and defeated local tribal leaders, began to expand northwards. Although England became a Roman province, Roman expansion was frequently met with resistance and revolts from native rulers, such as the warrior-queen Boudicca. In the middle of the 4th century AD, Roman rule began to breakdown. People migrated from Italy and Ireland and the Netherlands to England due to the Romans conquest of England and subsequent settlement, the Gaelic invasions from Ireland in 300 AD and the arrival of Dutch Frisii tribes who settled in Kent. The Arrival of the Anglo-Saxons Between 411 AD and 1065 AD, England was ruled by local leaders in a period known as Anglo-Saxon Britain. Post-Roman England, which, by this time was divided into several powerful kingdoms, underwent a cultural transition with the arrival of Germanic speaking Anglo-Saxon settlers over several centuries. These included Saxon warriors, invited to protect Britons from invading Scottish tribes, and peaceful migrants as well as the infamous Viking raiders. A combination of invasion, migration and cultural assimilation resulted in a Christian, Anglo-Saxon England, which was united at the end of the millennium. People migrated from Norway, Denmark, and Germany and France to England as a result of the Viking raids and settlements along the English coast and the large influx of Anglo-Saxons who were initially employed in the English military. At the same time, populations moved from England to places like France, Spain, Scotland, and Denmark and Norway fleeing the country after the mass immigration of Anglo-Saxons. Movement from around England to Germany At some point before 696 AD your ancestors moved to Germany. These are the events your ancestors would have lived through in Germany. Early Germanic Tribes Between 100 BC and 394 AD, Germany was ruled by local leaders in a period known as the Archaic period and Late Antiquity. Germany was home to multiple Germanic tribes who frequently emerged victorious against Roman military campaigns, preventing Roman advance into Germany. At the end of the 4th century AD the Huns invaded Germany and many of the native Germanic tribes began to migrate westwards to escape the rule of the Hunnish Empire. People migrated from Scandinavia and Poland and Eastern Europe to Germany as part of the mass migration of tribes into Germany. Many Danes moved south seeking new lands after crop failures in Denmark. At the same time, populations moved from Germany to places like neighboring European countries as Germanic tribes continued to migrate across the continent. The Great Tribal Migration Between 395 AD and 799 AD, Germany was ruled by local leaders in a period known as the Migration period. During this period there was mass migration of many Germanic tribes throughout Europe; Slavic tribes entered Germany from the east, while the Visigoths sacked Rome and then established a kingdom covering Iberia. The Ostrogoths settled in Italy and the Franks in France and West Germany. Over the proceeding centuries, the Franks came to dominate all of the Germanic tribes and built a vast empire under the Merovingian kings. People migrated from Romania, Ukraine, Moldova, and Belarus and Russia to Germany as a Slavic tribal migration swept across Eastern and Central Europe. Many Slavs settled in the eastern regions of Germany. At the same time, populations moved from Germany to places like Spain, Portugal, Italy, and France and other Western European countries The movement of tribes across Western Europe such as the Suebi who settled in Spain and Portugal, the Visigoths in Iberia, the Ostrogoths in Italy and the Franks in France. Migration Story B Date: 225 AD - 1268 AD Radius: 37.6661miles Latitude: 57.545 Longitude: 41.215 Ancient ancestry in Russia Your ancestors came from Russia prior to 659 AD, so let's take a look at what was going on in Russia up to this point: The Gothic Kingdom of Oium Between 100 AD and 300 AD, Russia was ruled by local leaders in a period known as the Gothic Age. In 100 AD Gothic tribes migrated from Scandinavia and allegedly established the Gothic Kingdom Oium in southern Russia. The area was likely also home to Slavs and other groups, such as the Turkic Khazars, who had gradually arrived in the country since the end of the Ice Age. Oium collapsed when it was overrun by Huns. People migrated from Belarus, Ukraine, Moldova, and Eastern Europe and Central Asia to Russia as part of the migration of different tribal groups around Europe searching for new land and opportunities. At the same time, populations moved from Russia to places like Scandinavia, Georgia, Armenia, Azerbaijan, and Ukraine and the Baltic states during the movement of early tribes from Russia through to the Baltic region and Scandinavia. The Bulgarians from Siberia moved down into the Eurasian Steppe and the plains between the Caspian and Black Seas. The Khazar Kingdoms Between 301 AD and 881 AD, Russia was ruled by local leaders in a period known as the Middle Ages. At this time Russia was home to many nomadic warrior Turkic tribes and local Finno-Ugric tribes. In the south was the Bosporan Kingdom, a Roman client state that was subsequently replaced by the kingdom of Khazaria. The Khazars were a Turkic people who dominated the Crimea and Caucasus having a highly profitable control over trade to the east. Eastern Slavs were beginning to migrate to and settle in Russia, and by the 7th century constituted a majority of the population. People migrated from Belarus, Ukraine, Moldova, and Eastern Europe and Central Asia to Russia as a consequence of the constant westward migration of nomadic tribes across Eastern Europe, such as the Slavs, Khazars and Avars, many of whom settled in Russia. Skating is in his bones

By MICHAEL MENTZER
Reporter Scene Editor

Bill Braun, a native of Mount Calvary who now makes Nevada his home, is not an Olympic skater by any stretch of the imagination, but he can skate circles around most people he knows.

At the age of 80, Braun is trim, fit, and a bundle of energy, stamina and stories about what he has been doing since he left the Fond du Lac area 40 years ago.

He was in Fond du Lac and Mount Calvary last week renewing old friendships and visiting relatives. While visiting, he found time to don his speed skates and display the skating form that has earned him "pocket money" at several rinks around the country.

He started skating at the tender age of 15, he says, on any ice he could find. He has continued the hobby throughout his life.

"Skating is the reason I'm in such good shape," he said. Braun says he relishes strenuous physical activity and never allowed retirement age to become a stopping point in his life.

"When I look back at some of my buddies, it seems that they looked toward retirement and then just stopped doing anything," he said. "When they got to be 65 they just layed around and filled their stomachs with food and watched TV."

Braun still works in construction on a ranch near Sparks, Nev. And he skates two or three times a week.

Every year on his birthday he skates 10 miles in less than an hour, and he admits that he picks up a little pocket money from skeptics who don't believe

Impromptu reunion

Emil Beyer, left, Route 4, and William Braun meet by chance for the first time in many years on the ice at the Recreation Building. Braun, a resident of Sparks, Nev., was visiting friends in the area last week. During a brief visit Beyer and Katie Groeschl, center, were able to bring Braun up to date on the events of recent years. A native of Mount Calvary and a local resident for many years, Braun left the area in 1940.

there's 10 miles in his spare frame.

For several years, he was a frequenter of the rink at Squaw Valley, the site of the 1960 Olympics. Now, he stays closer to his Sparks, Nev. home.

Fast talking and full of quips, Braun is an avid speed skating fan, and he is ecstatic about the speed skating exploits of fellow Wisconsinite Eric Helden of Madison.

Braun grew up in Mount Calvary and went to Holy Cross School before beginning a career in construction. In fact, he is proud to say that he is the oldest living male graduate of Holy Cross School.

As a sidelight to construction work in Fond du Lac, Braun built and sold excursion boats. On weekends he sold rides in his boats from his dock at what is now Lakeside Park. "You could pick up $100 on a weekend back then," said Braun, "and that was a lot of money in those days."

In 1940, Braun packed his gear into the last excursion boat he had built, traveled across Lake Winnebago, up the Fox River to Green Bay, out of the bay to Lake Michigan and eventually on to the Gulf of Mexico.

He didn't return home for 37 years. "I know how Rip Van Winkle must have felt," he says. It was quite an experience to see how much Fond du Lac had changed in the years between 1940 and 1977.

Now, he tries to visit his relatives and friends around the United States once a year. He hops aboard a bus and strings together a trip that would humble a less hardy man.

He travels light but always finds room for his ice skates.

"I think speed skating is in my bones," he said. Braun also is proud to point out that his cousin, Howard Braun, skated in the Olympics at Lake Placid in 1932, and another cousin, Jack Lauby, held a speed skating championship in Wisconsin.

Among relatives Braun visited last week were Evelyn and Estelle Braun at Mount Calvary and Elmer Braun and Betty Braun Domroehs at Fond du Lac.

William C. Braun, 80, flashes around the indoor rink at the Fond du Lac County Fairgrounds during one of his weekly speed skating sessions. Braun, a native of Mount Calvary, has been skating almost all his life. He was in Fond du Lac last week to visit friends and relatives. Braun now resides in Sparks, Nev., not far from Squaw Valley, the site of the 1960 winter Olympics.

DESIRED 2024 George Braun Reunion in the Park

This chapter of this book is basically a list of the things I need to make the book “more complete” with individual family portraits and one big family portrait in the park.

One unwritten annual goal is to “take” a huge family photo of everyone together. Everyone views those old photos and wishes we had one. Well, I would like to do this at the Sippel Family Reunion in Fond du Lac every year if possible too; however, we all know this is not always an option and below is an example of the photo’s I would like to receive from all of you with regards to each individual family, and, what we can do is follow my directions after this, create individual family pictures, or standard family portraits we all want anyways, and electronically stich them together and make it look like were all in a huge family photo. It’s a start.

This slide is my attempt at doing just that, and yes, it took a while, and yes, it didn’t work out well. The lay-out of each individual family photos do NOT follow a standard format.

Please photograph yourselves, and your family, in the “rough draft” photo lay-out below, and try to image what you and your family could do, and how they could pose, if I were to replace you and your family with a “better photo” for use in your individual slide and the “rough draft photo”. I am including some dimensions I would like every photo to be laid out in. The general width of the family setting, the distance the high-resolution photo from someone’s photo should be taken from both off the ground and from the front row of the family and even the placement of the people in the FAMILY PHOTOGRAPH. Now, I understand, that 30 years from now, there are going to be more people, so please allow a little on the edges for editing.

The Camera should be back about 10 feet from the front row persons and the group should be no more than 15 feet wide and 5 feet off the ground. Three rows is desired, one for each generation. Everyone’s face and front torso should be observable and everyone smiling and looking at the lens and not the FLASH BULB. Also, long sleeve shirt, all families wearing the same basic solid colors and no plaids. Suite and ties are welcome, especially for the Grandparents.

 Fond du Lac Reporter, Tues. July 6, 1993. Elmer G. Braun, 77, formerly of 378 E. 11th St., died Sunday, July 4, 1993, at Rolling Meadows Nursing Home. He was born Sept. 10, 1915, at Calvary Station, a son of Joseph A. and Gertrude Bleuel Braun. On May 22, 1939, he married Marie Chodak at St. Mary’s Church. Mr. Braun was employed as a machinist at Giddings & Lewis for 33 years, retiring in 1983. He was a member of St. Mary’s Church, 3rd Order of St. Francis, and the Holy Name Society. He was a member of AARP and served as recording secretary for International Association of Machinists Local 1402. Both he and his wife were volunteers at St. Agnes Hospital. Survivors include his wife; four sons, Ronald of Somerset, N.J., Daniel and his wife Luane of Brookfield, and J. Peter and his wife Dolores, and Robert and his wife Gayle, all of North Fond du Lac; two daughters, Nancy Braun of Fond du Lac and Mary Braun of Madison; 11 grandchildren; six great-grandchildren; two sisters, Evelyn and Estelle Braun, both of Calvary Station; and one brother, Eugene and his wife Pat of Calvary Station. Preceding him in death were his parents; one brother, Orville; and one sister, Dolores. Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. Thursday at Uecker-Witt Funeral Home and at 11:30 a.m. for A Liturgy of Christian Burial at St. Mary’s gymnasium, due to construction at the church. The Rev. Kevin Wester will officiate. Entombment will be at Shrine of Rest Mausoleum, Ledgeview Memorial Park. Visitation is from 9 a.m. Thursday to the time of services at the funeral home. Memorials in his name may be directed to Alzheimer’s Disease Research.

Elmer Anthony and Marie (Chodak) Braun Family

Marie Chodak Braun 10/26/1915 – 9/15/2007

Marie Braun, 91, a resident of the Fond du Lac Lutheran Home, died on Saturday September 15, 2007. She was born in Cook County, Illinois on November 26, 1915, the first of her family to be born in the U.S., to Michael* and Christina Omasta Chodak, (Also spelled Mihaly Chodak (1882-1942)(Born in Turolowka Hungry) and Kristina Omasta (1884-1959)(Born in Austria or Hungary or Slovakia)) who emigrated with their young family to Philadelphia, PA in the U.S. from Slovakia in 1913. On May 23, 1939 she married Elmer Braun; they lived their entire married life in the Fond du Lac area. After raising their 6 children, she worked as a nurse's aide at St Agnes Hospital, where she continued as a volunteer upon retirement. Distinguished by her kindness, intelligence, and sense of humor, she loved reading, listening to music, the outdoors, and walked outside every day until recently. Throughout her life she was an accomplished seamstress, who also knit and crocheted many creations for her family and numerous charitable groups.

She is survived by her 6 children: Ronald and his friend, Murie Karlin of Somerset, NJ; Daniel and his wife Luane of Hartland, WI; Nancy at All About Life Nursing Home FDL; J.Peter and his wife Dolores of FDL; Robert and his wife Gayle of Hancock, WI; and Mary Elizabeth of Corvallis, OR. She has 11 Grandchildren, 19 Great Grandchildren and one Great-Great Granddaughter. Her sister Alice Zahn and brother Wally Chodak, in laws Evelyn and Estelle Braun Eugene Braun and his wife Pat also survive her. She is preceded in death by her husband, Elmer; sisters Ann, Christina, and Betty; and brother Michael.

* Her father Michal or Mihaly was listed under Mihaly. There is a record of her birth in Cook County, Illinois. See Ancestry.com for the birth certificate record.

Paul Adams

Paul passed away. Don't know the date. Don't care. He was one of my closest friends before started dating, and marrying my sister, Pam. We miss him dearly.
